The Gurandbult Management Development (Career Campus), established and Registered in 2011, offers IT and business programmes with national qualifications which develop skills and prepares the graduates for a future filled with exciting opportunities at its campus. We aim to equip our graduates with the right skills to successfully enter the South African job market.

MICT SETA

The MICT SETA is a training accreditation body committed to skills development in the ICT (Information and Communications Technology) sector. MICT SETA accreditation means that GMD complies with specific regulations ensuring that our training programmes are nationally recognised and comply with the Skills Development legislation. As a SETA (Sector Education and Training Authority) MICT SETA is a body established under the Skills Development Act (RSA,1998c) whose main purpose is to contribute to the improvement of skills in South Africa. NQF registered qualifications

National Certificates accredited by SAQA and ETQA's MICT SETA.

Our Study Material

All programme material is included in the course fee. GMD spends a considerable amount of time assessing and evaluating study materials. Tried and tested programme manuals are used and our alliance with registered vendors and material developers gives us access to original resources to choose from.

Progress

The purpose of the assessments is to inform learners of their learning progress and to enable facilitators to adjust their instruction to the needs of learners. Throughout the formative assessment process, the results and progress of the learner will be continually discussed, reviewed and further development strategies will be implemented to improve learning programmes and instruction. Each learner will be issued with two academic transcripts during their year of study in order to monitor their progress.

Training Methodology

The facilitator-led skills training enables our learners to gain a thorough understanding of the programme material at all times. Our programmes focus on the practical approach to content and learners graduate with hands-on skills required within the IT industry, enabling them to function fully as IT or business professionals.
